ROTARY BINGO

AN OPEN LETTER FROM THE ROTARY CLUB.

The Rotary Club of Drayton Valley wishes to extend sincerest thanks to all the many volunteers who gave assistance at our recent Bingo.

We also wish to thank all who attended and made it a success.

We do regret that there was a small group who caused a disturbance at the close of the game.

It is in this respect that we would like at this time to clear up any misunderstandings that may exist.

As you all know, the Rotary Club is attempting to provide Kiddies Playground facilities and general beautification of one of our park areas. This is a big and costly project for our small Service Club and the Rotary members are, from time to time, undertaking fund raising ventures for this purpose.

Our Bingo was our biggest venture. We planned to provide a 5 Car Bingo which we calculated would take at least 3000 paid admissions to finance. To protect the club against possibility of loss in this venture our advertising on all posters and in the Pembina News Advertiser clearly stated that ONE CAR WOULD BE GUARANTEED FOR EVERY 600 PAID ADMISSIONS. These posters were prominently displayed from Drayton Valley to Buck Creek, Lodgepole, Red Deer, Edson, etc.

The Bingo was well received and well attended, but when the count of paid admissions was made it was found that the total was 1601. Of a total of 3000 Master Cards available and ready we still have 1399 cards unsold, still in their cartons, which verified our figures.

In accordance with our advertising, 2 cars were played for, along with 8 other major prizes.

We know that most citizens realize that the Bingo was presented exactly as advertised, and feel that the unjustified criticism was due to a misunderstanding among a small percentage of those who attended.

Once again, many thanks to all who assisted in this worthy cause.

The Drayton Valley Rotary Club.

THE SECOND OF OUR SERIES OF CHRISTIAN INTEREST articles by D.V. Ministers is written by Reverend W.A. Swinton of the Anglican Church.

THE CHURCH AND THE HOME

Appearing in a magazine designed for the Christian home was this statement: "There are three basic and fundamental institutions concerned for the child. These are the home, the church, and the school. The greatest of these is the home. For the home comes first in the life, and its ties survive longer and more closely than those of any other institution--although the church often significantly shares this relationship."

All of us will agree I believe, with the truth of this statement. Certainly the home as an institution, has the greatest single influence upon a child's life. It is here in the home that the child first learns the meaning of security and love, and gains a sense of belonging. It is here that the child receives its first impressions of right and wrong. Little children are great imitators; they are something like monkeys. They learn by 'doing' and 'watching', and their habits become part of their character. The life as we become grown up, our actions are governed by what we learned as children. It is this early childhood training which determines our actions and responses to the varying demands of living with ourselves and others.

The home does naturally come first in the child's life. Nothing can quite take the place of one's family. However, the church is quite inseparable from the home in its concern for the training of the young. The church as an agency is concerned for the child, the family, and the home. The church upholds the family unit as given of God, and as such is basic to society.

We must regard the church as an institution that can achieve something that cannot be accomplished in the home alone. Through the home we would like to give the children every material security, but we cannot. It is not possible. It is possible however, to give them a greater security, the knowledge of God's love. Such a knowledge will give them strength and guidance all their days. No greater gift can we give the children than through home and church to know the love of God.

W.A. Swinton.

DRAYTON VALLEY SCHOOL--1928.

Last week we had a picture of the 27 teachers who comprise the teaching staff of Drayton Valley School in 1928. Pictured to the left is the Drayton Valley school-- circa 1928. The teaching staff was busy taking the picture so therefore does not show in the picture.

Those in the picture (you pick 'em out) are: Elizabeth Jonson, (now Mrs Nordell); Lenora Jonson, (now Mrs Bunberry); Ruth Jonson, (now Mrs Hystad); Andy Wikander; Ralph Wikander; Jean Wikander; (now Mrs Muir); Andrew Johnson; Robert Johnson; Evelyn Tucker, (now Mrs Jensen); Leslie Tucker; Arvid Erickson; Conrad Topstad; and Ruth Dodson, (now Mrs Pauluk).

Just around the corner beyond camera-range were Danny Bills and Dave Starling who considered they were too big to get their picture taken. Teacher of the class was Miss Hardy, described later as a "big, hefty red-head" in fact it is rumored the boys called her "Big Hardy" and that Les. Tucker, during his first year in school got a whupping for calling her that where she could overhear it. (The picture was found among the effects of the late Mrs Viola Tucker)

BUS OPERATOR BUYS NEW BUS.

John Getzinger, operator of the school buses for Drayton Valley School, put his brother Albert on the plane for Hamilton, Ontario, recently to bring back a new 48 passenger bus for school use.

Mr. Getzinger has five buses in operation bringing children from Easyford, Violet Grove, Moon Lake and Round Valley. Easyford children of all ages come into Drayton Valley School, and also the Laurel children, west of Rocky Rapids. From Moon Lake and Round Valley youngsters above grade eight come in to Drayton Valley, from Violet Grove 6 and up come in from Dunnington from 6 and up. All the children come in from west of Drayton Valley where there used to be a school.

Over 200 children are bused in. Mr. Getzinger is building a 24 by 50' garage to house his buses. It is being built on the vacant lot between the present bus depot and the Esso Garage.

Drivers for the buses this year are, John Getzinger, Raymond Getzinger, Ron Smith, Roy Sjerdel, Bill Hopfe and Bob Haynes, who is a spare driver.

The children from Rocky Rapids are bused in by Don Ripke, who has the contract, and his own bus.

CAMP SET UP IN LODGEPOLE.

Leduc Construction Company, which was formerly located on the highway outside of Lodgepole has moved their campsite into Lodgepole, where they have set up a good modern camp, with sewer and water. The Leduc Construction camp is along the highway, going north, just north of Curtis Harris' Camp, which is the former location of Lewis Welding and Machine Shop. Forrester Camp, just across the highway from Harris' camp has been located in Lodgepole for some months.

Lodgepole School is in the throes of growing. As well as the classroom additions that are being put in an auditorium is in the making and to tie all the buildings together a roof will have to be stretched over the top, which means the roofs on some of the present

Buildings will have to be torn off. While construction is going on, with possible rain or snow causing trouble School registration at Lodgepole, at last reports, was a whopping 170.

The Lions Den

The Lions Club of Drayton Valley got off to a start for the coming season with a dinner meeting in the Cardium Room, Tuesday evening, September 16. During the two mid-summer months, July and August, no regular meetings were held.

A good number of Lions were present and accounted for at the dinner-meet. Along with regular members there were four guests, reading from the middle to both ends the guests were Tom McManus, raconteur of note, (by the way, get him to tell you the latest Volkswagen joke sometime) also principal of the High School; Mr. Mackie, acting manager of the local bank during Mr. Cummin's absence; the tall, dark and handsome driver-owner of 4-way Wholesale, Mr. Maris, and tall, dark and handsome Mike (last name unknown) of the bank.

During the absence of the regular Tail Twister, Buck MacDonald carried the little potter around. A pretty red weskit, emblazoned with the Lions emblem was raffled off and was won by A. Playford. It will be very warm and comfy when the chill winds of adversity blow, as blow they must for all who deal in the public prints.

Reports were brought by Secretary-Treasurer Lion Al. Miles and by vice president Lion Don McKenzie.

KEN MASON'S COLUMN:

The long-smouldering Hutterite issue in Alberta is going to come under the scrutiny of a three-man government committee.

Hutterite colonies already have spread about as far as they can under present legislation in southern Alberta, and before long they're going to be in desperate need of more land.

The government hopes its committee will come up with a solution to the ticklish problem before it becomes any more acute.

Mr. Frame, the retired chief superintendent of schools for Alberta, heads the committee. The other members are Charles P. Hayes, Strome, president of the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts, and J. M. Bentley, North Edmonton, vice-president of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture.

The Hutterites and their communal way of life have been a thorn in the government's side for many years. Under existing legislation, colonies can't be established any closer than 40 miles apart.

With one of the highest birth rates in the world, the Hutterite population is increasing to such an extent that the 40-mile limit is going to cause trouble one of these days. And government officials strongly suspect that the section of the Communal Properties act which sets the limit is invalid, because it is legislation against a minority group. If it's ever contested in court, they say, it might be thrown out.

There are some 5,000 Hutterites in Alberta now, mostly in colonies in the south, but it is estimated that within a century they will number around 1,000,000.

Most of the trouble stems from the fact that the Hutterites set up self-supporting colonies and have little or no contact with the outside world. They set up their own schools on the colonies. They are exempt from military service, and they don't vote.

The main complaint against them is that their presence has a harmful effect on the economy of the community. They produce nearly everything they need, which is a bare minimum, hence they don't support local business to any great extent.

But on the other hand, they occupy large tracts of land, work harder on it and farm it more efficiently than other farmers. They can even make a living from marginal land that other farmers wouldn't touch, but it's when they absorb good land that the neighbors begin complaining.

Some colonies have been getting around the 40-mile limit by leasing (cont'd next column)

land instead of buying it, but this has stirred up trouble. Last year, a real hubbub developed over a case near Warden in the south where the government violated its own Communal Properties Act and permitted sale of land to a colony. The fuss which arose forced the government to rescind the order-in-council which authorized the sale.

This year, when the Hutterite problem was discussed in the legislature, Premier Manning said the legislation is "not complete, or even satisfactory".

What the committee will recommend is anyone's guess. But one of its jobs will be to see how other provinces and states deal with the pacifist sect which moved into Canada from the U.S. during the First Great War.

Some people have suggested a program of gradually integrating the Hutterites with the rest of the population. But the Hutterites have shown no indication of being willing. Earlier this year when a Hutterite in the south applied for his Canadian citizenship papers, it raised a storm of protest from the colonies.

All the Hutterites want is to be left alone, but if their presence is detrimental to the rest of the population, what is to be done?

NO EGG BOARD -- A tough clause written into provincial legislation has for the second time killed plans for a compulsory, province-wide egg marketing board.

The results of a plebiscite on the egg-marketing question were released last week. Only 46.6 per cent of the 26,410 eligible to vote were in favor of the plan. Under the provincial legislation, at least 51 per cent of those eligible must be in favor.

Of those who actually took the trouble to vote, a heavy majority favored the board. There were 19,729 ballots marked yes, and 4,575 marked no. Some 11,100 poultry-men didn't bother to vote and, in effect, they helped kill the plan.

However, the percentage in favor was down from a similar vote held last year, when 48 per cent voted for the egg board. The second plebiscite was held this year because farm organizations claimed last year's enumeration was faulty.

The new vote may mean an end to talk of a producer-controlled egg board for the time being. But sooner or later farm organizations probably will press for a new act making it easier to introduce a board. They want the vote to carry on a majority of those who actually cast ballots.

Town of Drayton Valley. The following is a synopsis of By-Law No. 112:

A By-Law of the Town of Drayton Valley to authorize the Council of the said Town of Drayton Valley to expend from Current Revenue sufficient money to pay up all outstanding accounts incurred in the erection of the Drayton Valley Recreation Centre Building, and over-expanded moneys paid out for the erection of the Drayton Valley Recreation Centre Building, and also for further moneys required for the completion of said building. At the time of commencement of construction of this building it was estimated that donations towards its completion would amount to the sum of approximately $20,000.00; however this figure was not nearly met and it now becomes necessary for providing for an alternative. #30,000 FIRE DESTROYS GARAGE

Fire completely destroyed the garage building, equipment and parts departments of the Campion Pipeline garage at Campion Corner, last Sunday evening, September 28.

The fire occurred about 6:30 in the evening of the 28th. It started underneath a truck and although attempts to extinguish it with a large foam extinguisher were made, they were unavailing and the fire quickly spread to the rest of the building. Fire extinguishing systems were used by those on hand to overcome the flames but the large frame building soon broke into flames. However, the fire was controlled to the garage alone, although it was not very far from the office building of Campion Pipeline Co. it was prevented from spreading to the office of the company.

As well as a complete loss on the building, a large parts department was destroyed, all equipment, a welding unit, two trucks and certain other equipment, were a total loss.

The building was erected about three years ago, soon after Campion Pipeline Company moved their office and equipment from Drayton Valley to the location along the new highway, just at that time under construction to Lodgepole. After the company established their office and field headquarters there the former became known as "Campion Corner."

The shop which was destroyed was 24'x56'. It will be replaced with the shop which the company has had at their Grande Prairie yard, which is 24'x36'. The shop will be taken down in sections and moved to Campion Corner as soon as possible. Loss in the fire is estimated at about $30,000 which was partially covered with insurance. Field Superintendent is Fred Gross.
